

Online presence for top park planning and design company

■ Lambe Planning and Design have recently launched their new website.

The two Directors of the company, Jonathan and Jeremy Lambe are well known within the Industry for their expertise in gaining planning approvals and their innovative layout designs for Holiday and Residential Park. Both Directors each have over 30 years' experience within the Industry, in dealing with all types of planning applications, the upgrading and expansion of parks and the creation of new holiday parks. They can advise on all aspects of the planning process.

Lambe Planning and Design deal with both large and small commissions, successfully negotiating and gaining planning consents for proposals which in many cases are contrary to restrictive planning policies. They have a strong track record in gaining planning approvals for new, high quality Holiday Parks on green-field sites and in sensitive locations. They also specialise in the upgrading of existing parks and facilities, where their expertise in improving visual appearance through careful design of the layout and sympathetic landscaping, plays an important role in achieving a successful outcome.

The Practice operates nationally from its office base in Caernarfon, and has clients throughout the British Isles.
